Profile Summary

Highly motivated medical student pursuing General Medicine at Lithuanian University of Health Sciences (LSMU) as an international scholar. Fluent in Arabic, Hebrew, and English, with a passion for combining medicine and technology. During my 3rd year of medical studies, I successfully completed an intensive Full Stack Web Development bootcamp, gaining hands-on experience in various projects. I thrive on exploring the intersection of medicine and technology, and I am eager to apply my skills in healthcare and tech domains. Open to opportunities that enable me to leverage my expertise and enthusiasm in this dynamic field
